The birds in the sky
The sun begins to rise
From behind the mountains
Through the clear sky

The creatures in the land
And all that can fly
Down into the oceans
Where nobody passes by

Subhana Allah, Everything in life
Worships You, You
Subhana Allah, Everything in life
Turns To You

From the plants to the seas
From the night to the breeze
From the rain to the snow
All creation praises You

We hope one day we'll meet
On the day when Angels will greet
We hope that day You'll be pleased

The rainbow stands
So far yet demands
Our gaze on its beauty
A clear sign to see

The rain drops fall
From the clouds up above
And back up again

Subhana Allah, Everything in life
Worships You, You
Subhana Allah, Everything in life
Turns To You

From the plants to the seas
From the night to the breeze
From the rain to the snow
All creation praises You
We hope one day we'll meet
On the day when Angels will greet
We hope that day You'll be pleased

God does not need
Anybody's prayers
It is us that need, Oh..

Truely Man and Jinn
Were both given
To choice, to make

From the plants to the seas
From the night to the breeze
From the rain to the snow
All creation praises You

We hope one day we'll meet
On the day when Angels will greet
We hope that day You'll be pleased
